Information on the Notes

Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. (the "Issuer") has issued Strategic Accelerated Redemption Securities ("STARS") linked to the S&P 500 Index (the "Index"). The STARS were priced at $10 each and mature on May 4, 2010.

The STARS are senior, unsecured debt securities of the Issuer that provide for an automatic call of the STARS if the closing level of the Index on any observation date is greater than or equal to the Starting Value of the Index, as determined on the pricing date.

If the STARS are called on any observation date, investors will receive a payment of:

- If called in May 2009: $11.0520 per unit
- If called in November 2009: $11.5780 per unit
- If called in May 2010: $12.1040 per unit

If the STARS are not called prior to the maturity date, then at maturity:

(1) If the Ending Value is greater than or equal to the Threshold Value (1,268.4060), then investors will receive per STARS:

$10

(2) If the Ending Value is less than the Threshold Value (1,268.4060), then investors will receive per STARS:

$$10 + [$10 \times (\text{Ending Index Value} - \text{Threshold Value} / \text{Starting Value}) \times 1]$

The Starting Value of the Index equals: 1,409.34. The Ending Value of the Index will be determined close to the maturity date.

Please see the prospectus for the STARS for more details regarding the calculations.

It is expected that the market value of the STARS will depend substantially on the value of the Index and may be affected by a number of other interrelated factors including, among other things: the general level of interest rates, the volatility of the Index, the time remaining to maturity, the dividend yield of the stocks comprising the Index, and the credit ratings of the Issuer.
