Information on the Notes

Citigroup Funding Inc. (the "Issuer") has issued Stock Market Upturn Notes ("Notes") based upon the S&P 500 Index (the "Index"). The Notes were priced at $10 each and mature on May 7, 2009.

At maturity, investors will receive $10.00 per Note plus:

A) If the Ending Value is less than or equal to the Starting Value:

$$$10.00 \times \text{the Equity Return Percentage}$$

This number will be either zero or a negative number.

B) If the Ending Value is greater than the Starting Value:

$$$10.00 \times (300\% \times \text{the Equity Return Percentage})$$

Payment at maturity cannot be greater than $12.00 per each note.

The Starting Value equals: 1,330.61. The Ending Value will be calculated shortly before maturity. Investors should refer to the prospectus and/or pricing supplement for more details regarding the calculations.

The Equity Return Percentage will be computed as follows:

$$\frac{\text{Ending Value} - \text{Starting Value}}{\text{Starting Value}}$$

It is expected that the market value of the Notes will depend substantially on the value of the Index and may be affected by a number of other interrelated factors including, among other things: the general level of interest rates, the volatility of the Index, the time remaining to maturity, the dividend yield of the stock comprising the Index, and the credit ratings of the Issuer.

The Trustee for the securities is The Bank of New York.
